DCAT-AP issues: submission guidelines

Any problems encountered, or suggestions for new functionalities can be submitted as issues on the DCAT-AP repository on GitHub. Submitters of issue need to register for a free user account by clicking "Sign up for GitHub" on the GitHub start page.

To help the classification of issues, the submitter is asked to provide as much information as possible, for example:

- submitter name

- submitter affiliation

- portal, service or software product represented

- clear and concise description of the problems or requirement

- proposed solution, if possible

The Editor of the DCAT-AP specification will respond to the issue within two weeks with an initial reaction and an indication of the next steps to be taken.
